Bouchea Center for Learning

In March, the participants and staff of the Bouchea Center for Learning recognized World Down Syndrome day (March 21) and during the month of April, we recognized Autism Awareness month. World Down Syndrome day is a global awareness day which supports advocacy for the rights, inclusion, and well-being of people with Down Syndrome. Autism Awareness is a month-long observance which focuses on raising awareness about autism spectrum disorders. Our participants and staff supported the effort of getting people talking by wearing crazy, colorful and/or mismatched socks and by creating and displaying related artwork.
